01.5) one way of identifying quality problems is quality management: Checking the product through stages. Another way is ~~customer feedback: Them complaining about the product shows problems~~ at the end. (Quality control) (Quality ensure)

01.6) one advantage of Job production is it being very flexible being able to serve any customers needs

~~01.7) Method 1: Customers seeing advertisement or the product on show. This makes the customer interest in the product. A ~~s~~ could be a buyer~~

~~method 2: Salesman try to look for customer's interest. Then will try to recommend things and making it sound like it ~~as~~ the money worths it or even give free warranty to make it more desirable~~

Method 2: Increase making customers feel better since buying something expensive they might be worried about damage and costs of that

365 $\overline{)1460}$ 4 Average is 4 Tea bags

02.2 One expectation is the taste of the tea, higher quality means better tasting. People ~~prioritize~~ prefer taste ~~than~~ Since tea should give pleasure on drinking it. This should be since they're using high quality leaves (the reason on the taste)

02.3) one benifit of effetive logistics is that they have a consfant flow of raw material, being reliable. This impacts the business as customers want have to wait for re stock (and the chance of them opting for other tea) they're able to sell to all potential customers since they have a low ~~just~~ chance of being out of stock. This can boost sales, customer satisfaction, and cost as if its effetive it should be lean production minum cost - maximum efficiency.

07.4) Customer engagement is when the business interacts to customers making them feel included and ~~feel~~ it's easy for them. ~~eg~~

Sayleng

02.5) I would recommend to increase customer engagement activities ~~jus~~ because I think making customers feeling included ~~and~~ is top ~~prior~~ priority as businesses want customers to be more involved, being able to see customer feedback throughout activities. They can also ~~have~~ be different to others making them unique. this means they stand out from the competitors. customers will be buying from a business which is different to standard ones. This will boost sales. ~~and~~ But doing will cost a decent amount of money also requiring time which could be used for something* else but I think there's more positives than negatives, this can also help with attracting staff as people see a business doing well and might want ~~to~~ job. Conclusion they should do it as it improves customer satisfaction, sales, ~~to~~ more employees and being to stand out - This out way the time and cost. ~~to~~
